

Workway Introduces Workway Direct

- New division focuses on direct hire placements of highly qualified candidates -

BURBANK, Calif., Feb. 14, 2006 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif.-based staffing firm specializing in serving mortgage lenders, banks, credit unions and other providers of real estate settlement services, announced today at the National Mortgage Servicing Conference & Expo, in Phoenix, Ariz., the introduction of Workway Direct, which focuses exclusively on direct hire placements of highly qualified candidates.

Workway Direct, a division of Workway, fills an extensive range of full-time employment opportunities at every level of an organization. It identifies highly qualified potential employees through a number of sources, such as industry and executive-level contacts and its own proprietary candidate database. Workway Direct's extensive screening process features specialized interview methods, multi-layered reference techniques and skills testing. From administrative support to middle management to the executive boardroom, Workway Direct matches the right person with the right opportunity.

"Workway Direct provides a staffing service for working managers interested in hiring the most qualified candidates in the country without the burden of identifying and screening job-seekers themselves," said Matt Johnston, chief executive officer of Workway. "Through our efforts, financial institutions can maintain focus on their bottom lines and boost their own competitiveness."

Workway Direct supports each placement by offering supplementary services and customized programs in areas such as payroll and billing, training, outplacement services and on-site account management. With state-of-the-art technology and professional expertise in systems integration and back-office support, Workway Direct excels in its ability to accommodate and conform to any system, making the process seamless for its clients.
