

Workway Brings Financial Institution Staffing Expertise to Las Vegas

- Opens new office to serve mortgage lenders, banks, credit unions and other providers of real estate settlement services -

San Diego, March 29, 2006 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif.- based staffing firm specializing in serving the financial industry, announced today at the MBA National Technology Annual Conference and Expo the opening of its new Las Vegas office to meet the increasing demand for financial industry staffing in one of the country's fastest growing cities.

Workway, founded to provide temporary, temp-to-hire and direct-hire employees, concentrates on the evolving staffing needs of financial institutions such as mortgage lenders, banks, credit unions and real estate settlement services. The company identifies highly qualified potential employees through an extensive screening process of interviewing, skills testing and reference checking.

"It is not surprising that Las Vegas, which leads the nation in job creation, would have a growing need for financial services," said Matt Johnston, CEO of Workway. "We have opened our new office in Las Vegas to leverage our knowledge and experience working with qualified potential employees into a competitive advantage for the city's financial organizations."

The Las Vegas office includes several staffing veterans. Jennifer Mendenhall, with 12 years of staffing industry experience, is one of Workway's regional vice presidents. She heads the new Las Vegas office and oversees all company operations for Southern California, Nevada and Arizona, and personally works with local area managers to deliver services to Workway's customers.

Lelania Stewart, as the Las Vegas sales manager, is responsible for business development in the city and has 10 years of sales and marketing experience.

Within the financial industry, Workway fills many crucial staffing positions that have a direct impact on the way financial companies do business. These positions include loan processors, bank tellers, escrow officers, accountants and others.
