

Workway Brings Financial Staffing Expertise to Dallas-Fort Worth Metro Area
- Opens new office in Richardson, Texas -

Burbank, Calif., June 05, 2006 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif. - based staffing firm specializing in serving the financial industry, announced the opening of its new office in Richardson, Texas, within the Dallas-Fort Worth area, to meet the increased demand for experienced financial staffing services.

The office enables the company to help meet the mounting demand for staffing in this booming suburb that has developed into a major employment center. Workway, founded to provide temporary, temp-to-hire and direct-hire employees, concentrates on the evolving staffing needs of financial institutions such as mortgage lenders, banks, credit unions and real estate settlement services. The company identifies highly qualified potential employees through an extensive screening process of interviewing, skills testing and reference checking.

“We opened this new office to help meet the need for qualified financial staff, who indirectly play a major role in the development of this growing, local community,” said Matt Johnston, CEO of Workway. “Richardson is also conveniently located in Dallas County and enables us to work with clients and job candidates throughout the region.”

Within the financial industry, Workway fills many crucial staffing positions that have a direct impact on the way financial companies do business. These positions include loan processors, bank tellers, escrow officers and accountants.
