

Workway Provides Staffing Services to CashCall

Burbank, Calif., August 7, 2006 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif. - based staffing firm specializing in serving the financial industry, announced today that it is providing staffing services to Fountain Valley, Calif.-based loan provider CashCall Inc.

CashCall – which offers a completely automated online lending program in which loan applicants, if approved, sign an electronic promissory note – started using Workway in January to provide loan collections agents. CashCall chose Workway because of the staffing firm’s expertise within the financial services industry that enables the loan company to integrate new staff more quickly and efficiently.

“We value our relationship with Workway because the company saves us approximately four hours per new hire and supplies us with high quality, well-trained personnel,” said Megan Kirby, Cash Call’s recruitment manager. “By utilizing Workway, we are able to maintain a stronger focus on making new loans and conducting business.”

“For customers like CashCall, we rely on our database of job candidates to identify people with the training and experience for the job,” said Matt Johnston, CEO of Workway. “By simplifying the recruitment process for CashCall, we reduce the time they have to spend screening job seekers and help leverage their staff into a competitive advantage.”

Workway, founded to provide temporary, temp-to-hire and direct-hire employees, concentrates on the evolving staffing needs of financial institutions such as mortgage lenders, banks, credit unions, title and escrow and real estate settlement services. The company identifies highly qualified potential employees through an extensive screening process of interviewing, skills testing and reference checking.
