

Workway Broadens Its Staffing Services Into Auto Financing Industry

Burbank, Calif., Oct. 10, 2006 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif.- based staffing firm specializing in serving the financial and other technical industries, recently opened its auto financing division, which matches job seekers with positions within the auto finance industry.

Workway's recent expansion places administrative assistants, HR specialists, inventory experts, accountants, open order and filing clerks and collections professionals within Southern California's auto finance industry. Workway is currently planning the expansion of the auto finance division to the rest of the country.

"The rise in car sales in Southern California has translated into an increase in loan servicing and additional personnel to deal with this growth," said Matt Johnston, CEO of Workway. "We have increased our own capabilities to meet this staffing need and are committed to positioning qualified workers within the auto industry who can save our customers time during the hiring process and give them a competitive edge."

As part of Workway's services, applicants are extensively pre-screened, interviewed in a one-to-one setting and offered skills assessments tests to confirm job seekers' qualifications and placed in a temp-to-perm or direct-hire position. The company currently employs 45 full-time staff and has more than 150 customers nationwide.
