

Workway Forms Alliance With Via Solo to Offer New Health Benefits Program to Associates

Burbank, Calif., Nov. 6, 2006 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif.- based staffing firm specializing in serving the financial and other technical industries, announced the formation of a new alliance with Scottsdale, Ariz.-based Via Solo, a marketing provider of affordable health benefits with individualized enrollment that enable temporary employees to choose a health program specific to their needs.

Most employer programs offer temporary workers health benefits that require a lengthy sign-up process within each corporate office, and there is limited flexibility in the plans, services and costs associated with the coverage. Through this program, made available to Workway's associates through the alliance with Via Solo, it is quick and easy to sign up for a wide variety of affordable health plans customized for each individual.

The benefits available through Via Solo include major and limited medical, dental, term life and discount cards as well as the elimination of limited group offering, dues/fees, payroll deduction and very little waiting periods and minimum weekly/hourly requirements. Unlike traditional health benefits programs that offer a predetermined set of benefits, this program matches each individual's needs and budget to a specific product.

“With this partnership I can now focus my efforts on my core business of staffing rather than administering a time-consuming health care program.” said Matt Johnston, CEO of Workway. “It gives me both personal and professional satisfaction knowing that my employees have a healthcare program that is customized to meet their needs, increasing their satisfaction in the workplace. My company's bottom line is being helped by the fact we can retain employees longer because we are able to offer health coverage.”

Workway provides staffing solutions for temporary, temp-to-hire and direct-hire positions for several industries requiring a high level of expertise, including healthcare, financial and IT. The company currently employs 60 full-time staff and has more than 150 customers throughout the United States.
