

Workway Hires Kasey Wilson to Focus on Mortgage Staffing In Its New San Diego Office

Burbank, Calif., March 29, 2007 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif.- based staffing firm specializing in serving the financial and other technical industries, announced the hiring of Kasey Wilson as an account manager for its newly relocated San Diego office.

In this position, Wilson focuses strictly on all levels of staffing for the mortgage industry such as mortgage brokers, mortgage bankers, wholesale firms and any other organizations needing mortgage personnel in the San Diego area.

Wilson brings with her substantial experience as an account manager and recruiter for the mortgage industry, as well as an extensive sales and marketing management background in retail environments.

"Kasey's industry knowledge provides a competitive advantage for our mortgage-oriented customers," said Matt Johnston, CEO of Workway. "Her familiarity with the industry allows our San Diego office to further boost its ability to match qualified job seekers and their skill sets with the requirements of our customers within the financial industry."

As part of Workway's services, applicants are extensively pre-screened, interviewed in a one-to-one setting and offered skills assessments tests to confirm job seekers' qualifications and placed in a temp-to-perm or direct-hire position. The company currently employs 75 full-time staff and has more than 150 customers nationwide.
