

Roger Iris Promoted as President of Workway

BURBANK, Calif., April 15, 2008 – Workway, a Burbank, Calif.-based staffing firm specializing in serving the financial industry, announced the promotion of Roger Iris as president of Workway.

In this position, Iris oversees the daily operations of the company to insure production efficiency, quality, service and cost-effective management of staffing resources. Iris is a key participant in developing and implementing strategic planning to promote continued growth for the company.

Prior to this, Iris served as Workway's senior vice president, where he was responsible for the marketing, business development and expansion of Workway while also supervising the performance of three regional managers and overseeing 20 field offices.

"Iris continues to be instrumental in enabling Workway to expand our business and further enhance our ability to provide qualified staffing to the financial, auto finance, IT and healthcare industries," said Matt Johnson, CEO of Workway.

Currently Workway places qualified staff in the banking, credit union, finance, accounting, mortgage, title, professional office and information technology sectors. As part of Workway's services, applicants are extensively pre-screened, interviewed in a one-to-one setting and offered skills assessments tests to confirm job seekers' qualifications before being placed in a temp-to-perm or direct-hire position. The company currently employs 75 full-time staff and has more than 200 customers nationwide.
